Office of the State Auditor Releases Report on Kane County Water Conservancy District

The report identifies key internal control weaknesses and best practices for the District

Salt Lake City, UTAH –

The Office of the State Auditor (Office) released a report on the Kane County Water Conservancy District (District). The report was conducted in response to information submitted to the Office's hotline program. The report identifies key internal control weaknesses as well as best practices the Kane County Water Conservancy Board and District management should implement to improve their oversight.

The news release and related information may be found on the Office's website at auditor.utah.gov.

About the Office of the State Auditor

The Office of the State Auditor provides Utah taxpayers and government officials with an independent assessment of financial operation, statutory compliance, and performance management for state and local government.

Specific activities of the Office include performing financial audits, conducting Federal funds compliance audits, providing local government oversight, conducting agency and program performance audits, performing fraud and compliance audits, and operating the State Auditor Hotline for citizens to report suspected financial issues or improprieties. These capabilities strengthen Utah State Government and help taxpayers have confidence in the integrity of Utah's government agencies.

The Office also provides interactive graphical tools to help taxpayers and policymakers gain greater insight into governmental financial activities.

The State Auditor is a Constitutional Officer of the State of Utah, elected directly by the state's citizens every four years. The role of the State Auditor is authorized in Article VII, Section 15 of the Utah Constitution. For more information, see auditor.utah.gov.
