Office of the State Auditor Releases a Review of Certain Utah Inland Port Authority Procurement Practices

Salt Lake City, UTAH –

The Office of the State Auditor (Office) today announces the release of a Review of certain Utah Inland Port Authority procurement practices. The Office received a complaint, through its hotline program alleging the Utah Inland Port Authority (Authority) improperly procured a contract for a communications and logistics management network worth $2 million.

The Office reviewed applicable statutes and the Authority's purchasing policy (Policy). The Office noted a key weakness in that Policy, specifically that the Authority's Sole Source procurement policy lacks adequate transparency and accountability.

State Auditor John Dougall said, "Procurement policies are intended to provide a good value for taxpayers. Although state statute permits sole source procurement, these procurements can still be designed to improve accountability and prevent abuse. Increasing transparency, such as providing notice prior to granting a sole source contract, allows possible suppliers to step forward when they believe they have a possible product or service of which a governmental entity might be unaware. Because of the prominence of the Utah Inland Port Authority, it should strive for the best and strongest procurement policies possible."
